2.2. Board skills matrix

SER maintains a Board Skills Matrix setting out the mix of skills and diversity that the Board currently has, or is looking to achieve, in its membership. The Board Skills Matrix is at Appendix C.

2.3. Independent directors, directors' interests and independent decision-making

SER acknowledges that the Board should ideally be composed of a majority of independent directors. SER is not currently too small for this to be practical.

SER requires all its directors to be independent in their decision-making. This is set out in more detail in the Board Charter (Appendix A).

2.4. Reporting

SER will, in its annual Corporate Governance Statement, include the recommended information set out in the ASX Corporate Governance Principles in relation to the Guide to reporting on Principle 2.

The Company supports a culture of honest and ethical behaviour in ensuring good corporate compliance and governance. The policy sets out, amongst other things, instances of suspected misconduct which can be reported to the internal and external parties and summarises the protections offered to whistleblowers.

Any material breach of the Company's policies, including any breach of the Whistleblower Policy, is raised at the Audit, Finance and Risk Committee level, with the latter reporting on them at the next Board meeting.

3.4. Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy

The SER Board has adopted an Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy (Appendix L) which demonstrates that the Company is committed to conducting its operations and business activities with integrity and preventing bribery or corruption by any of its directors, officers, employees or any other party acting on its behalf. SER is committed to complying with all laws that apply to it, including anti-bribery and corruption laws.

4. Safeguard integrity in financial reporting

6.2. Recognise and manage risk

The SER Board has established a risk management framework to enable it to identify and manage risk on an ongoing basis.

6.3. Review by the Board

The Board's collective experience will enable accurate identification of the principal risks that affect SER's business. Key operational risks and their management will be recurring items for deliberation at Board meetings. SER does not have a separate risk committee due to its small size.

When reviewing risk management policies, the Board should take into account SER's legal obligations and should also consider the reasonable expectations of SER's stakeholders, including: shareholders, employees, customers, suppliers, creditors, consumers and the community.

The Board will review SER's risk management framework at least annually to satisfy itself that it continues to be sound.

6.4. External auditor

The company, in general meeting, is responsible for the appointment of the external auditors of SER.

7. Remunerate fairly and responsibly

SER has a clear remuneration policy for its directors and senior executives which clearly aligns remuneration to the creation of value for shareholders.

SER considers itself to be currently too small to have a remuneration committee.

7.1. Director and senior executive remuneration policy

SER's remuneration policy is structured for the purpose of:

- motivating senior executives to pursue the long-term growth and success of SER, and
- demonstrating a clear relationship between senior executives' performance and remuneration.

The Board's responsibility is to set the level and structure of remuneration for officers (including but not limited to directors and secretaries) and executives, for the purpose of balancing SER's competing interests of:

- attracting and retaining senior executives and directors, and
- not paying excessive remuneration.

Executive directors' remuneration should be structured to reflect short and long-term performance objectives appropriate to SER's circumstances and goals.

Executive directors' and senior executives' remuneration packages should involve a balance between fixed and incentive-based pay, reflecting short- and long-term performance objectives appropriate to SER's circumstances and goals.

The total maximum remuneration of non-executive directors is the subject of a Shareholder resolution in accordance with SER's Constitution and the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules, as applicable. The determination of non-executive directors' remuneration within that maximum will be made by the Board having regard to the inputs and value to SER of the respective contributions by each non-executive director.

The Board may award additional remuneration to non-executive directors called upon to perform extra services or make extra exertions on behalf of SER.

Each of the non-executive directors receives a fixed fee for their services as directors. There is no direct link between remuneration paid to any of the directors and corporate performance, such as bonus payments for achievement of certain key performance indicators.

No director may be involved in setting their own remuneration or terms and conditions and in such a case relevant directors are required to be absent from the full Board discussion.

The Board will review the remuneration policies of all Directors and senior executives officers on at least an annual basis.

7.2. Reporting

SER will, in its annual Corporate Governance Statement, include the recommended information set out in the ASX Corporate Governance Principles in relation to the Guide to reporting on Principle 8.

Accordingly, the Directors have absolute discretion to determine the appropriate composition of the Board from time to time, subject to the Constitution, the Act and the ASX Listing Rules.

- 4.6 A non-executive director is considered "independent", on fulfilment of requirements as provided under Recommendation 2.3 of the Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations (4th Edition).

- 4.7 The Board does not believe it is appropriate to set a limit on tenure. While tenure limits may bring fresh ideas and viewpoints to the Board, they hold the disadvantage of losing the contributions of directors who have developed in-depth and invaluable insight into the Company and its operations over a significant period of time. Accordingly, while tenure as a factor is considered, it is one of many factors the Board takes into account in the context of the optimum composition of the Board when assessing the independence and ongoing contribution of a director.
- 4.8 All directors (except the Managing Director or CEO), are required to submit themselves for re-election in accordance with the terms of the Constitution and the ASX Listing Rules.
- 4.9 Non-executive directors are expected to devote the necessary time to discharge their duties. It is Board policy that prior to their appointment, non-executive directors must provide the Chair with details of other commitments and an indication of time involved and to acknowledge that they will have adequate time to meet what is expected of them. The Company continually assesses and upgrades its policies to ensure compliance with corporate governance requirements. You will be notified of any material changes to the policies.

1.4 What to do if you suspect the Code has been breached

a) Reporting channels

Alternatively, you can report unacceptable behaviour through any of the following channels:

- i. the CEO or Chair; or
- ii. a Director of the Company.

Wherever possible, your calls, notes, emails and other communications will be dealt with confidentially. You have the Company's commitment that, wherever possible, your privacy will be protected where you make a report under this Code.

- (ii) demotion or dismissal or loss of opportunity for promotion; and

Preliminary investigations of reported breaches are administered by a relevant supervisor or manager.

If a breach of the Code is found to have occurred, a formal investigation process is administered by the CEO or Chair (or his or her delegate) in consultation with the supervisor or manager of the offending person.

Following the preliminary investigations, if a material breach of the Code is found to have occurred, the CEO or Chair and the supervisor or manager of the offending person must report such material breach to the Board or to a committee that the Board may establish for this purpose.

During the investigation process, all Employees will be expected to cooperate with the directions of the CEO or Chair (or his or her delegate).

1.5 Consequences of breaching the Code

We recognise that breaches of the Code may occur from time to time. We expect that any breach will be inadvertent and without intent, however it should be clearly understood that any breach may result in disciplinary action.

Depending on the nature of the breach, penalties may be imposed ranging from counselling to dismissal or termination of the contract or engagement (in extreme circumstances). We will act objectively and in accordance with any applicable provisions or requirements in an employment contract.

We reserve the right to inform the appropriate authorities where it is considered that there has been criminal activity or an apparent breach of the law.

1.6 Who to speak to if you have questions?

The Code does not include:

- a) every ethical issue that you might face; nor
- b) every law and policy that applies to the Company.

In representing the Company, you are expected to act in a manner consistent with the key standards underpinning the Code, namely:

- (a) your actions must be governed by the highest standards of integrity and fairness;
- (b) your decisions must be made in accordance with the applicable law(s); and
- (c) your business must be conducted honestly and ethically, with your best skills and judgement, and for the benefit of customers, Employee, shareholders and the Company and its subsidiaries.

If you have any questions regarding the Code or any of the Company's policies at any time, you should contact your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

2. Your obligations

2.1 Compliance with laws and regulations

You should be aware of, and comply with, your duties and obligations under all laws and regulations relating to your work.

We encourage you to:

- a) actively understand the laws which affect or relate to the Company's operations;
- b) attend seminars presented by the Company or other external service providers to maintain your knowledge of the laws and regulations, as well as to increase your awareness of relevant legal and industry developments; and
- c) interpret the law in a way which reinforces the Company's reputation for integrity.

If you have a question as to whether particular laws apply or how they may be interpreted, please contact your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

2.2 Fair trading and dealing

The Company aims to maintain a high standard of ethical behaviour in conducting business and to behave with integrity in all dealings with customers, shareholders, government, Employees, suppliers and the community.

When dealing with others, you must:

- a) perform your duties in a professional manner;
- b) act fairly and with the utmost integrity and objectivity; and
- c) strive at all times to enhance the Company's reputation and performance.

You are encouraged to familiarise yourself with the legal requirements applying to fair trading and dealing, and to undertake training or attend seminars to develop and maintain your knowledge so that you can act in accordance with those requirements.

If you have a question or wish to report a breach of fair dealing requirements, please contact your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

2.3 Conflicts of interest

You are responsible for notifying the Company and appropriately dealing with any conflicts of interest (actual or potential). If you are concerned that you may have a conflict of interest, you should disclose that interest and discuss the matter with your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

a) What is a conflict of interest?

A conflict of interest exists where loyalties are divided.

You may have a conflict of interest if, in the course of your employment or engagement with the Company:

- a) any of your decisions lead to an improper gain or benefit to you or your associate;
or
- b) your personal interests, the interests of an associate, or relative, or obligation to some other person or entity, conflict with your obligation to the Company.

The following are some common examples that illustrate actual or apparent conflicts of interest that you must avoid. These examples are intended to be a guide only.

b) Improper personal benefits

Conflicts of interest can arise when you or a member of your family receive improper personal benefits as a result of your position. You and your relatives should not give unreasonable gifts to, or receive unreasonable gifts from, the Company's customers or suppliers or others with whom the Company interacts.

We encourage you not to accept a gift (of any kind or value) in circumstances where your business judgment might appear to have been compromised, or where you or the Company would be embarrassed if the gift was made public.

The Company may have dealings with companies based in countries where gift giving has important cultural significance and plays an important role in business relationships. While you should be aware and respectful of such cultural practices, we encourage you to remain mindful of the Company's policy in this regard.

If you are in any doubt as to the appropriateness of a gift, please check with your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

c) Financial interests in other businesses

You should avoid having a significant ownership interest or personal financial interest in any other enterprise if that interest compromises or appears to compromise your loyalty to the Company.

You must disclose all personal financial interests that you or members of your family have in organisations which have established, or are threatening to establish, a business relationship with the Company or which compete with the Company.

Personal financial interests include, among other things, interests resulting from the following relationships:

- (i) officer, director, Employee or independent contractor;
- (ii) ownership of shares or other equity interest;

- (iii) debtor or creditor (other than in respect of personal financing arrangements with a recognised financial institution, such as mortgages); or
- (iv) lessee or lessor.

Ownership of less than 5% of the common or ordinary shares in an entity is not normally considered a conflict.

If you have any doubt about personal financial interests, consult with either your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

d) Corporate opportunities

You must not take advantage of property, information or other opportunities arising from your position in the Company for personal gain.

For example, if you learn of a business or investment opportunity through the use of corporate property or information or your position within the Company, you should only participate in the business or make the investment with approval from the CEO or Chair. As a general principle, you should only participate in a joint venture, partnership or other business arrangement with the Company with approval of the CEO or Chair.

e) Conflict of interest arising from a personal relationship

Employees who have the responsibility for or authority to affect the careers or employment of other Employees should perform their functions free from any conflict of interest arising from a personal relationship.

For example, a conflict of interest will arise from a personal relationship if you have a family, business or personal relationship (including a personal financial interest, sharing living quarters or a romantic relationship) with any other Employee within the Company and that relationship causes, or might reasonably be anticipated to cause, an inability on your part or their part to perform responsibilities objectively and impartially as far as the other party to the relationship is concerned.

You must disclose any conflict of interest arising from a personal relationship to either your Manager or the CEO or Chair. Such disclosures will be treated confidentially.

f) Outside memberships, directorships, employment and public office

The Company supports involvement of its Employees in community activities and professional organisations. However, outside employment or activity must not conflict with an Employee's ability to properly perform their work for the Company, nor create a conflict (or the appearance of a conflict) of interest.

Before accepting outside employment or a position on the board of directors of another company or non-profit organisation, you must carefully evaluate whether the position could cause, or appear to cause, a conflict of interest. If there is any question, consult your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

You must obtain prior written consent from the CEO or Chair where the proposed employment or position relates to an outside organisation that has or seeks to have a business relationship with the Company or competes with services provided by the Company.

You may accept public office or serve on a public body in your individual private capacity, but not as a representative of the Company unless authorised by the Board. If such public office would require time away from work, you must comply with Company policies regarding leave of absence and absenteeism.

g) Use of Company name

It is the Company's policy to make available to all Employees any Company discounts with suppliers or other businesses that may be passed on to Employees. However, you may not use the Company's name or purchasing power to obtain personal discounts or rebates unless the discount or rebates are made available to all Employees.

2.4 Improper use or theft of Company property, assets and email

You are responsible for protecting any Company property and assets that are under your control and you should safeguard them from loss, theft and unauthorised use.

Company property and assets includes cash, securities, business plans, third party information, intellectual property (including computer programs, software, models and other items), confidential information, office equipment and supplies.

You must not:

- (a) use Company assets for any unlawful purpose or unauthorised personal benefit;
- (b) remove Company property and documents from official premises without a good and proper reason. If required to be removed, they should be stored in a secure manner and covered by appropriate insurances;
- (c) make improper disclosures, including inadvertent or careless disclosure, of competitive business strategies and plans, special methods or operation and other information that is of competitive value to the Company. If you are unsure whether information is of a confidential nature, seek advice from your Manager and refer to the Company's Continuous Disclosure Policy before disclosure.

You are encouraged to use common sense and observe standards of good taste regarding content and language when creating documents that may be retained by the Company or a third party. The Company's electronic communication systems should not be used to access or post material that violates our policies or any laws or regulations. This also applies to personal, non-business use of the Company's electronic communication systems.

2.5 Privacy

The Company respects your privacy and the privacy of others.

You should familiarise yourself with, and comply with:

- (a) the privacy laws of Australia and, where applicable, the jurisdiction or your business unit;
- (b) the Company's policy relating to privacy which details the appropriate use of personal information.

If you have any questions in relation to privacy, please contact either your Manager or the CEO or Chair.

2.6 Public communications and disclosure

You are responsible for the integrity of the information, reports and records under your control and you are expected to exercise the highest standard of care in preparing materials for public communications.

Those documents and materials should:

- (a) comply with any applicable legal requirements;
- (b) fairly and accurately reflect the transactions and occurrences to which they relate;
- (c) not contain any false or intentionally misleading information, nor intentionally misclassify information; and
- (d) be in reasonable detail and recorded in the proper account and in the proper accounting period.

Media statements and official announcements may only be made by persons authorised under the Company's Continuous Disclosure Policy. If you receive a request for information and you are not authorised to respond to the enquiry, refer the request to the appropriate person. Unless the CEO, Chair or Company Secretary has given prior written consent, you and your associated parties must not participate in public forum discussions (including internet based forums) where the subject matter is related to the Company, its competitors or the industry in which we operate.

The Company has adopted the Continuous Disclosure Policy as a means of ensuring compliance with its disclosure and communication obligations under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and the ASX Listing Rules. The aim of the Continuous Disclosure Policy is to keep the market fully informed of information that may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities, and to correct any material mistake or misinformation in the market.

Ensure that you are aware of the requirements of the Continuous Disclosure Policy and, if it applies to you, you must act in accordance with its terms.

2.7 Employment practices

a) Equal opportunity and discrimination

The Company is committed to:

- a) equal employment opportunity;
- b) compliance with the letter and spirit of a full range of fair employment practices and anti-discrimination laws; and
- c) a workplace free from any kind of discrimination, harassment or intimidation of Employees.

The Company will promptly investigate all allegations of harassment, bullying, victimisation or discrimination and will take appropriate corrective action. Retaliation against individuals for raising claims of harassment or discrimination will not be tolerated.

b) Workplace health and safety

All people have obligations to assist in ensuring that this situation is maintained at all times.

Misusing controlled substances or alcohol or selling, manufacturing, distributing, possessing, using or being under the influence of illegal drugs on the job will not be tolerated.

You should familiarise yourself with all relevant procedures to ensure the workplace is safe and without risk to the health of others and yourself. You should follow any lawful and reasonable instructions consistent with those procedures.

c) Company reputation

Employees must not act in any way that could cause harm to the Company's reputation or market position during or after their employment. Employees have a duty to act in a manner that merits the continued trust and confidence of the public.

d) Securities trading

The Company is committed to upholding fair and ethical securities trading practices complying with all laws and avoid any conflicts of interest.

Employees must not:

- (i) use any price sensitive information (which is not generally available to others) in deciding whether or not to buy or sell the Company's securities;
- (ii) deal with the Company's securities when in possession of price sensitive information about the Company which has not been publicly disclosed; and
- (iii) act contrary to the Company's Securities Trading Policy (which provides guidance on when Employees are likely to possess price sensitive information).

You should familiarise yourself with the Company's Securities Trading Policy and ensure you act in accordance with it when dealing in the Company's securities.

e) Bribes, inducements and commissions

You must not pay or receive any bribes, facilitation payments, inducements or commissions (this includes any item intended to improperly obtain favourable treatment or avoid unfavourable circumstances).

You must not give or receive any unreasonable gifts (refer section 2.3(b)) or otherwise act in an unethical way. Remember that agreeing not to act may have the same ramifications as acting in an unethical way.

2.8 Community

a) Contribution to the community

The Company is a responsible corporate citizen and actively supports the communities in which we live and work. Each Employee is expected to uphold the Company's commitment to pursue good corporate citizenship while engaging in corporate activity.

You must abide by all local laws and regulations and you are expected to respect and care for the environments in which the Company operates.

b) Charitable Donations

Whilst personal donations are at the discretion of the individual, any donations to any cause or charity on behalf of the Company must be approved by the Chief Executive Officer or Chair.

Charitable donations on behalf of the Company must be for approved causes, to registered bodies and must not give rise to adverse reputational risks.

c) Environment

The Company is committed to doing business in an environmentally responsible manner and identifying environmental risks that may arise out of its operations.

If you are aware of, or suspect, an action that is not environmentally responsible or in breach of the applicable laws or regulations, report the matter in accordance with section 1.4.

d) Politics

You may voluntarily participate in the political process as an individual. We ask that you do not engage in actions that could cause someone to believe that your actions reflect the views or position of the Company, if that is not the case.

You may not use corporate funds for political purposes.

This does not prohibit:

- (iv) communications by the Company to its shareholders on any lawful subject;
- (v) payments of salaries and expenses of Employees whose duties may include communication with government officials;
- (vi) political activity by any Employee in his or her individual, private capacity. However, to eliminate any appearance of coercion in such political activities, it is against the Company's policy for any supervisor to solicit funds from a subordinate for political purposes.

The Board of Directors will be responsible for drafting, reviewing and making recommendations to the Board with respect to this Code of Conduct. The code will be reviewed annually or as often as necessary to ensure it remains effective and relevant. 4. Approved & Adopted

This policy was approved and adopted by the board on 18 January 2021.

APPENDIX G

Continuous Disclosure and Communications Policy

1. Introduction

Strategic Energy Resources Limited ACN 051 212 429 (Company) has significant obligations under the Corporations Act (2001) Cth (Corporations Act) and the Listing Rules of ASX Limited (ASX) to keep the market fully informed of information which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities.

The Company's policy is to ensure compliance with these requirements and the Company discharges its obligations by releasing information to the ASX Market Announcements Platform in the form of:

- a) an ASX release;
 - b) disclosure of other relevant documents (e.g. the annual report, results announcements etc); or
 - c) requesting a trading halt.

2. Overview of continuous disclosure obligations

2.1 ASX Listing Rule 3.1

The ASX has described Listing Rule 3.1, known as the continuous disclosure rule, as its most important and "corner stone" listing rule. It requires that the Company must immediately notify ASX of:

"any information the Company is or becomes aware of concerning itself that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities".

The information must be given to ASX (and an acknowledgement that ASX has released the information to the market must be received) before the information can be given to any other person or released on the Company's website.

The basic principle underlying the continuous disclosure framework is that timely disclosure must be made of:

- a) information which may affect the security values or influence investment decisions; and
- b) information in which security holders, investors and ASX have a legitimate interest.

"Immediate" disclosure under Listing Rule 3.1 requires disclosure to be made "promptly and without delay". Although the length of time required to make an announcement will depend on the circumstances, the information must be disclosed to ASX as quickly as possible in the circumstances and must not be deferred, postponed or put off to a later time.

2.2 Materiality

Materiality must be assessed having regard to all the relevant background information, including past announcements that have been made by the Company and other generally available information.

Strategic or reputational matters clearly have the potential to present significant issues for the Company. Such matters can be equally (or even more) important than financial and other "quantifiable" matters.

Some examples of what might constitute a "material price sensitive information" are included in paragraph 2 of Attachment 1.

2.3 Exceptions to the continuous disclosure rule

Disclosure to the market is not required where each of the following conditions is and remains satisfied:

- (a) one or more of the following apply:
 - (i) it would be a breach of a law to disclose the information;
 - (ii) the information concerns an incomplete proposal or negotiation;
 - (iii) the information comprises matters of supposition or is insufficiently definite to warrant disclosure;
 - (iv) the information is generated for the internal management purposes of the Company; or
 - (v) the information is a trade secret; and
- (b) the information is confidential and ASX has not formed the view that the information has ceased to be confidential; and
- (c) a reasonable person would not expect the information to be disclosed.

2.4 Confidentiality

When the Company is relying on an exception to Listing Rule 3.1, or is involved in a development that may eventually require reliance on an exception, appropriate confidentiality protocols must be adhered to. A leak of confidential information immediately removes the Company's ability to withhold the information from ASX and forces the Company to disclose the information even if it could have otherwise been withheld legitimately, regardless of where the leak comes from.

Information about a matter involving the Company may cease to be confidential if there is:

- (a) a reasonably specific and reasonably accurate media or analyst report about the matter;
- (b) a reasonably specific and reasonably accurate rumour known to be circulating the market regarding the Company; or
- (c) a sudden and significant movement in the market price or traded volumes of the Company's securities that cannot be explained by other events or circumstances.

Confidential information should only be disclosed on a need-to-know basis and only to those who have an obligation of confidence to the Company. This includes employees and directors of the Company who have an obligation under their contract of employment and any third parties with appropriate contractual agreements in place to protect the Company's confidential information.

2.5 False market

A false market is where material misinformation or materially incomplete information exists in the market, which compromises the proper valuation of shares.

If ASX considers that there is or is likely to be a false market in the Company's securities and asks the Company to give it information to correct or prevent a false market, the Company must immediately give ASX that information. Refer to section 7.11 for the Company's policy in relation to ASX price query letters.

The obligation to provide this information to ASX arises even if an exception described in section 2.3 would apply but for ASX's request.

3. Contraventions and penalties

The Company contravenes its continuous disclosure obligations if it fails to notify ASX of information required by Listing Rule 3.1.

Either ASX or ASIC, as co-regulators, may take action upon a suspected contravention.

(a) ASX Listing Rules

If the Company contravenes its continuous disclosure obligations under the Listing Rules, ASX may suspend quotation of the Company's securities, temporarily halt trading in the Company's securities or, in extreme cases, delist the Company from ASX.

(b) Corporations Act

If the Company contravenes its continuous disclosure obligations, it may also be liable under the Corporations Act and may face:

- i. criminal liability which attracts substantial monetary fines; and
- ii. civil liability for any loss or damage suffered by any person as a result of the failure to disclose relevant information to ASX.

There is no fault element required to establish civil liability. However, a court has power to relieve a person from civil liability if the person acted honestly and in the circumstances the person ought fairly to be excused for the contravention.

ASIC has the power to issue infringement notices and can initiate investigations of suspected breaches under the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 (Cth).

(c) Class action risk

If the Company fails to disclose materially price sensitive information in accordance with Listing Rule 3.1, investors who buy or sell the Company's securities during the period of non-disclosure (and possibly other affected stakeholders) may be entitled to bring a class action against the Company. Even when they are not successful, class actions can be costly to defend and may have a serious negative effect on the Company's reputation and share price. A successful class action could potentially threaten the solvency of the Company.

3.2 Persons involved in a contravention

The Company's officers (including its directors), employees or advisers who are involved in any contravention of continuous disclosure obligations may also face criminal penalties and civil liability. Substantial penalties or imprisonment, or both, may apply.

A person will not be considered to be involved in the contravention if the person proves that they:

- (a) took all steps (if any) that were reasonable in the circumstances to ensure that the Company complied with its continuous disclosure obligations;
- (b) after doing so, believed on reasonable grounds that the Company was complying with those obligations.

The procedures specified in this Policy are the minimum expected of relevant officers and employees in relation to compliance with the Company's continuous disclosure obligations. Depending on the circumstances, officers and employees may have obligations over and above those contained in this Policy.

To avoid potential civil or criminal liability, in all situations officers and employees must do everything they reasonably can to ensure that the Company complies with its continuous disclosure obligations. In particular, staff must not try to hide or delay "material news", especially when the information is likely to impact the Company's share price.

3.3 Infringement notices and statement of reasons

If ASIC has reasonable grounds to believe that the Company has contravened its continuous disclosure obligations, ASIC may issue an infringement notice to the Company, providing (among other things) details of the alleged contravention and specifying the penalty.

Before issuing the infringement notice, ASIC must:

- (a) give the Company a written statement of reasons; and
- (b) give a representative of the Company an opportunity to appear at a private hearing before ASIC, give evidence and make submissions to ASIC in relation to the alleged contravention.

If an infringement notice is issued to the Company, the Company may:

- (a) pay the penalty specified in the infringement notice and lodge the requisite notification with ASX;
- (b) seek an extension of the 28-day compliance period;
- (c) make written representations to ASIC seeking withdrawal of the infringement notice (and, if appropriate, seeking refund of any penalty paid in accordance with the infringement notice); or
- (d) decline to satisfy the infringement notice within the compliance period.

Even when the Company pays the penalty specified in the infringement notice, the Company may still be pursued in the courts by third parties. Paying an infringement notice will not prevent shareholders or other affected third parties from bringing a class action.

4. Further information

More detailed information about the continuous disclosure obligations is contained in Attachment 1 to this Policy.

In addition, relevant officers and employees receive training (on at least an annual basis) that includes:

- (a) familiarisation with our continuous disclosure obligations and the penalties that may result from their breach;
- (b) examples of continuous disclosure obligations and the penalties that may result from their breach;
- (c) the business costs associated with a 'suspected' continuous disclosure breach, including the risk of ASIC investigations and class actions and the reputational damage to the Company; and

- (d) an overview of this Policy and the officer's and employee's role under this Policy.

5. Reporting disclosable events

5.1 Responsibility

The Board is ultimately responsible for ensuring compliance with the Company's continuous disclosure obligations.

If management becomes aware of any information at any time that should be considered for release to the market, it must be reported immediately to a member of the Board.

Managers must ensure they have appropriate procedures in place within their areas of responsibility to ensure that all relevant information (i.e. any information that could be materially price sensitive) is reported to them immediately for on forwarding in accordance with this Policy.

It is important for management to understand that just because information is reported to the Board, that does not mean that it will be disclosed to ASX. It is for the Board to determine whether information is material and requires disclosure. Accordingly, the Company's policy is for all potentially material information to be reported to the Board even where the reporting person is of the view that it is not in fact "material". The person's view on materiality can (and should) be shared with the Board but will not be determinative.

A similar reporting obligation also arises where a non-executive director (in their capacity as a director of the Company) becomes aware of information that should be considered for release to the market.

5.2 Assessment process

Where any information is reported as referred to in section 5.1, the Board will (as appropriate):

- (a) review the information in question;
- (b) urgently seek advice that is needed to assist the Board to interpret the information (provided that disclosure of the information cannot be delayed if the information is clearly materially price sensitive on its face);
- (c) determine whether any of the information is required to be disclosed to ASX;
- (d) consider whether it is necessary to seek a trading halt to facilitate an orderly, fair and informed market in the Company's securities;
- (e) coordinate the actual form of disclosure with the relevant members of management; and
- (f) confirm the CEO/Executive Director (ED) approval for the proposed disclosure.

5.3 Draft announcements pending disclosure

Where information is reported to the Board in accordance with section 5.1, and the Board determines that the circumstances are developing but the information is not presently disclosable, the Board must oversee the preparation of an appropriate draft announcement to facilitate immediate disclosure of the information if it later becomes disclosable (for example, as a result of confidentiality being lost through a "leak").

5.4 Misleading information

The Company is also subject to a duty not to disclose information in a way that could mislead the market. Appropriate care must therefore be taken to ensure that the content of any announcement clearly discloses the material information.

It is paramount that the Company's market announcements are accurate, balanced and expressed in a clear and objective manner that allows investors to assess the impact of the information when making investment decisions.

All announcements under Listing Rule 3.1 or 3.1B must be approved by the Board before the announcement is made or disclosure is released through the Company Secretary.

5.5 Rapid Response Process

If a meeting of the Board cannot be convened within the requisite timeframe, the Rapid Response Process set out in section 9 must be followed.

5.6 Announcement protocol

All announcements to ASX must be made through the Company Secretary in accordance with the procedure set out in section 10.

Where open briefings or public speeches are to be made and, in accordance with this Policy, relevant presentation materials and speeches are to be lodged with ASX for release, prior approval must be obtained from the Chair and/or the CEO/ED (or equivalent).

The Board will be promptly provided with copies of all information disclosed to ASX.

It is a standing agenda item at all Board meetings to consider whether any matters reported or discussed at a Board meeting should be disclosed to the market pursuant to the Company's continuous disclosure obligation.

Continuous disclosure is also a standing agenda items at senior management meetings for the purpose of monitoring compliance with the Company's obligations.

6. Trading Halts

The Company may request a trading halt to maintain fair, orderly and informed trading in its securities and to manage disclosure issues.

If the market is or will be trading at any time after the Company becomes aware of an obligation to disclose information but where the Company is not in a position to make immediate disclosure to the market, the Board will consider whether to request a halt or, in exceptional circumstances, a voluntary suspension.

As a matter of general guidance, a trading halt may be necessary in the following circumstances:

- (a) if media comment about the Company is sufficiently specific and detailed to warrant a response;
- (b) if the Company experiences an unexplained price and/or volume change;
- (c) if a confidentiality leak has occurred and it is having a material effect on the market price and/or traded volumes of the Company's securities;

- (d) if ASX forms the view that a false market exists and asks the Company to release information to correct a false market and the Company is not able to make a release immediately, and in each scenario,
- (e) where the market is trading, the Company is not in a position to give an announcement to ASX straight away; or
- (f) where the market is not trading, the Company will not be in a position to given an announcement to ASX before trading next resumes.

The Chair or the CEO can call a trading halt and will alert and keep the Board informed of any request for a trading halt.

Trading Halt Response Protocol: If neither the Chair nor the CEO/ED (or equivalent) is unavailable to call a trading halt, the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee may call a trading halt. If the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee is also unavailable, any member of the Board is authorised to call a trading halt.

7. Financial markets communications

7.1 The Company's contact with the market

Throughout the year the Company has scheduled times for disclosing information to the market on its financial performance. The Company provides technical back-up information at these times that supports such announcements. The financial results announcements, and the supporting information, must be lodged with ASX.

If "outlook statements" or forecasts are included in the Company's annual report or results announcements for a previous period, any material change in earnings expectations (either upwards or downwards) must be announced to the ASX before being communicated to anyone outside the Company.

In addition, the Company interacts with the market in a number of ways which can include one-on-one briefings, speeches, etc. At all times when interacting with the financial community, the Company must adhere to its continuous disclosure obligation and must not selectively disclose material price sensitive information to an external party unless that information has first been released to ASX.

7.2 Authorised spokespersons

The only Company representatives authorised to speak on behalf of the Company to major investors, potential investors, stockbroking analysts and the media are:

- (a) the Chair;
- (b) the CEO/ED (or equivalent);
- (c) the CFO (if applicable);
- (d) the Company Secretary; or
- (e) their delegates nominated for a specific purpose.

Any questions or inquiries from the financial community (where received in writing, verbally or electronically, including via the website) should be referred in the first instance to the CEO/ED (or equivalent) or CFO or Company Secretary.

Authorised spokespersons must not provide any material price sensitive information that has not already been announced to the market nor make comment on anything that may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities.

No guidance on actual or forecast financial performance will be provided to any external party that has not already been provided to the market generally.

7.3 Communication blackout periods

Between the end of a reporting period and the announcement of the financial results, the Company imposes a blackout period in order to avoid the risk of creating a false market by inadvertently disclosing information that is incomplete or uncertain.

The Company's policy is that during this time it will not hold one-on-one briefings with institutional investors, individual investors or stockbroking analysts to discuss financial information concerning the Company and will not hold any open briefings to discuss anything other than information which has been announced to ASX.

Any proposal to deviate from the policy must be subject to approval in advance from the CEO/ED (or equivalent) and, if any briefings or meetings are held during a blackout period, there must be no discussion or provision of financial or other information in breach of the Company's continuous disclosure obligation.

7.4 Open briefings to institutional investors and stockbroking analysts

The Company may hold open briefing sessions. The Company will not disclose any information in these sessions which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities, unless such information has already been announced on ASX.

The Company will advise the market in advance of open briefings via the ASX announcements platform and the Company's website, lodge all presentation materials with ASX prior to the presentation commencing and place such information on the Company's website promptly following completion of the briefing. The Company may webcast its open briefings at the time they occur and, if so, will keep a clearly dated historical archive record of the web cast for at least a 6-month period. This information will be retained by the Company Secretary.

Public speeches will often be categorised as open briefings and these will be lodged first with the ASX if they may contain material price sensitive information and will also be posted on the Company's website.

A representative of the Company Secretary will be present at all open briefings. Where the representative believes that information which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities has been disclosed inadvertently, the representative must immediately report the matter to the Company Secretary for review by the Board for immediate disclosure to ASX.

The Company Secretary is responsible for ensuring the policy requirements in relation to open briefings are met.

7.5 1-on-1 briefing with the financial community/institutional investors

From time to time the Company may conduct one-on-one briefings with the financial community or institutional investors. Where such briefings occur, no information will be provided which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities unless it has been announced previously to ASX.

The Company Secretary will ensure a record or note of all one-on-one briefings is kept for compliance purposes. The record will include a record of those present (name or numbers where appropriate) and the time and place of the meeting.

7.6 Site visits

The Company may conduct visits to its sites from time to time which involve the presence of members of the financial community.

Nothing will be disclosed during these site visits which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities unless it has already been announced to ASX.

7.7 General conferences and forums

Where the Company's executives give speeches or presentations to, or participate in, conferences or forums, it is important that the same protocols are maintained as for presentations to investors or analysts. Where appropriate, the Company Secretary will liaise to ensure such presentations are posted promptly on the Company's website.

7.8 Review of briefings, meetings, visits and presentations

Immediately following any briefings, meetings, visits or presentations referred to in this section 7, the CEO/ED (or any equivalent) (or in his or her absence, the senior executive involved) will review the matters discussed and presented (including any questions and answers provided). Where they form the view that any information has been disclosed inadvertently which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities, they must immediately report the matter to the Board for review and to consider the necessity for an ASX announcement or a trading halt.

7.9 Review of analyst reports and forecasts

The Company recognises the importance placed on reports by stockbroking analysts. Any comment by the Company to an analyst in relation to an analyst's report or financial projections should be confined to errors in factual information and underlying assumptions, provided such comment of itself does not involve a breach of the Company's continuous disclosure obligation or amount to a selective briefing.

The CEO/ED (or any equivalent) or Company Secretary will maintain a record of analysts' earnings forecasts and provide a summary report of these forecasts to the Board on a regular basis.

The CEO/ED (or any equivalent) or Company Secretary will monitor the general range of analysts' forecast earnings relative to the Company's own internal forecasts and any financial forecasts previously published by the Company. If the CEO/ED (or any equivalent) or Company Secretary becomes aware of a divergence between the "consensus" of the analysts' forecasts and management's own expectations, which may have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities, the CEO/ED (or any equivalent) or Company Secretary will refer the matter immediately to the Board to consider the necessity for an ASX announcement or trading halt.

Where a decision is made to make an announcement about the Company's profit outlook, it is of critical importance that the Company provides clear guidance to the market regarding the Company's view of profit outlook.

During an analyst briefing, if the Company is concerned that the analysts' forecast diverges from the Company's internal expectations, then there is a risk that even a carefully scripted communication limited to previously disclosed information may be interpreted by the analyst as a 'down grade' and thus amounts to 'selective disclosure'. Accordingly, analyst briefings should not be used to manage analysts' expectations.

If necessary (eg consensus analyst forecasts diverge from the Company's expectations), a public ASX release must be made.

7.10 Monitor media and share price movements

The Company Secretary or his or her delegate will monitor:

- (a) media reports about the Company;
- (b) media reports significant drivers of the Company's business;
- (c) the Company's share price movements; and
- (d) significant investor blogs, chat-sites or other social media it is aware of that regularly post comments about the Company.

If the Company Secretary or his or her delegate identifies unusual or unexpected price movements or unexpected media coverage (for example, media coverage in relation to price sensitive matters that have not yet been disclosed by the Company to the market) or the circumstances suggest that a false market may have emerged in the Company's securities, the Company Secretary or his or her delegate will report the matter to the Board to determine whether any disclosure is required.

7.11 ASX price query letters

ASX can issue a price query letter if there is a material movement in the Company's share price that is not explained by an announcement or by information that is generally observable.

ASX will provide a short period (often no more than 24 hours) to respond and will publish both the query and the Company's response on the company announcement platform.

The questions that ASX may ask in conjunction with a price query can be quite broad. The preparation of a response can be particularly difficult in the period leading up to release of the Company's results announcement because of the heightened possibility that the Company may be forced to make a premature announcement of incomplete information.

In order to be in a position to deal promptly with any price query, the Company Secretary should have a system in place which will enable rapid discussions and review of the proposed response. Draft language should be prepared in advance where a development can be anticipated as being likely to occur.

Any response to ASX should be mindful of any likely future announcements so that the response will not appear, with the benefit of hindsight, to have been less than clear and transparent.

7.12 Clear communication

It is acknowledged that Company's employees interact with different external stakeholders in the course of their respective roles. All employees must ensure they comply at all times with the Company's continuous disclosure obligations.

Matters relating to the Company must be reported to the Board to enable all information to be provided to the respective stakeholders so as to ensure consistent and accurate communication across all areas and in order to avoid inconsistencies or ambiguities which can lead to confusion or misinformation in the market place.

8. Communications with shareholders

The Company aims to communicate all important information relating to the Company to shareholders. Additionally, the Company recognises that potential investors and other interested stakeholders may wish to obtain information about the Company from time to time.

To achieve these dual goals, the Company communicates information regularly to shareholders and other stakeholders through a range of forums and publications. The Company also has an investor relations program, to facilitate effective two-way communication with investor.

Measures for communicating important aspects of the Company's affairs include:

- (a) corporate website;
- (b) annual general meeting;
- (c) annual report;
- (d) ASX announcements;
- (e) alerts;
- (f) presentations; and
- (g) share registry.

8.1 Meetings of Shareholders

General meetings are used to communicate with shareholders and allow an opportunity for informed shareholder participation. Shareholders are encouraged to attend or, if unable to attend, to vote on the motions proposed to by appointing a proxy or using any other means included in the notice of meeting. The Company conducts its general meetings in accordance with the Company's Constitution, the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules.

General meetings are generally held in a location and at a time which is intended to maximise participation by shareholders and/or will be made available for shareholders and other stakeholders to attend via virtual or hybrid technology facilities. The full participation of shareholders at general meetings is encouraged to ensure a high level of accountability and identification with Company's strategies and goals. Shareholders have the opportunity to submit questions prior to each annual meeting and the Manager, senior management and auditors are present to assist with providing answers to questions raised by shareholders.

8.2 Electronic communications

The Company understands the importance of providing its shareholders with the ability to communicate with the Company and its security registry electronically. Therefore, the Company will provide its Shareholders with the option to receive communication from, and send communications to, the Company and its security registry electronically.

The Company's website provides information about how shareholders of the Company may elect to receive and send information to the Company electronically.

8.3 Website

The Company will ensure that it actively promotes communication with shareholders and provide shareholders with information about the Company and its activities so that investors can make informed investment decisions and gain a deeper understanding of the Company's business, operations and performance.

One important way the Company does this is through its corporate website. The Company reports and ASX announcements will be available to view and download from the investor relations sections on its website and/or the ASX website under code SER.

In particular and where appropriate upon lodgement with ASX, the following will be posted to the Company's website:

- (a) relevant announcements made to the market via the ASX;
- (b) media releases;
- (c) investment updates;
- (d) Company presentations and media briefings; and
- (e) copies of press releases and announcements for the preceding three years

9. Role of the Board

9.1 General responsibilities

The Board is responsible for compliance with the Company's continuous disclosure obligations. Responsibilities include:

- (a) ensuring the Company complies with its continuous disclosure requirements;
- (b) reviewing information which is brought to its attention to determine if there is a disclosable matter and, if so, whether any Listing Rule non-disclosure exception applies;
- (c) establishing and maintaining the Company's disclosure policies and procedures and ensuring that there is an adequate system in place for the disclosure of all material information to the ASX and other authorities in a timely fashion;
- (d) considering any enquiries received from ASX, including any "false market" response letters;
- (e) reviewing any infringement notice or written statement of reasons issued to the Company by ASIC; and
- (f) educating management and staff on the Company's disclosure policies and procedures.

9.2 Specific responsibilities

Board approval and input is particularly important in respect of matters that are clearly within the reserved powers of the Board or matters that are otherwise of fundamental significance to the Company. Such matters include:

- (a) significant profit upgrades or downgrades;
- (b) dividend policy, guidance or declarations;
- (c) company-transforming transactions or events; and

- (d) any other matters that are determined by the CEO/ED (or equivalent) or Chair to be of fundamental significance to the Company.

Where an announcement is to be considered and approved by the Board, the Company Secretary must ensure that the Board is provided with all relevant information necessary to ensure that it is able to fully appreciate the matters dealt with in the announcement.

9.3 Board meetings

The Board meets regularly and may meet at short notice where necessary. Meetings and other decisions of the Board may be made electronically (including by telephone, email or other electronic means).

9.4 Rapid Response Process

If an announcement that would ordinarily require Board approval requires immediate disclosure to the market in order for the Company to comply with its disclosure obligations, all reasonable efforts must be made to have the announcement urgently considered and approved by the Board prior to release. However, if such approval cannot be obtained, the CEO/ED (or equivalent) or Chair may authorise the disclosure to ensure compliance with continuous disclosure laws. If the CEO/ED (or equivalent) or Chair are unavailable, the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee may authorise disclosure. If the Chair of the Audit & Risk Committee is unavailable, any member of the Board may authorise disclosure. The announcement must then be considered by the Board at the first possible opportunity following its release to determine what, if any, further steps need to be taken by the Company.

10. Role of the Company Secretary

The Company has nominated the Company Secretary as the person with the primary responsibility for all communication with the ASX in relation to Listing Rule matters.

In particular, the Company Secretary is responsible for:

- (a) liaising with ASX in relation to continuous disclosure issues;
- (b) the lodging of announcements with ASX in relation to continuous disclosure matters;
- (c) implementing procedures to ensure that the Company's ASX passwords and other security measures are secure;
- (d) ensuring senior management are aware of the Company's Disclosure Policy and related procedures, and of the principles underlying continuous disclosure;
- (e) ensuring this Disclosure Policy is reviewed and updated periodically as necessary;
- (f) developing template ASX announcements and trading halt requests; and
- (g) maintaining an accurate record of all announcements sent to the ASX and all correspondence with ASIC in relation to the Company's continuous disclosure obligations.

11. Other disclosure obligations

The Company has numerous other disclosure obligations under Chapter 3 and Chapter 4 of the Listing Rules, including disclosure obligations in relation to:

- (a) periodic disclosure;

- (b) making a takeover bid;
- (c) undertaking a buy back;
- (d) agreements between the Company (or a related party or subsidiary) and its directors (or a related party of the director);
- (e) recommendations or decisions in relation to the declaration or payment of dividends;
- (f) changes to the Company's share capital;
- (g) changes to the beneficial ownership of the Company's share capital;
- (h) options over shares;
- (i) general meetings of the Company;
- (j) the Company's registered office and share register;
- (k) changes in officeholders;
- (l) documents sent to shareholders;
- (m) loan assets;
- (n) ownership limits;
- (o) directors' interests; and
- (p) record dates and timetables.

The Company Secretary is responsible for ensuring that necessary disclosures are made as and when required.

12. Policy breaches

The Company regards its continuous disclosure obligations very seriously. Breaches of this Policy may lead to disciplinary action being taken against the employee, including dismissal in serious cases.

13. Infringement notices and statement of reasons

If ASIC has reasonable grounds to believe that the Company has contravened its continuous disclosure obligations, ASIC may issue an infringement notice.

The receipt by the Company of any written statement of reasons or infringement notice issues to it by ASIC must be reported immediately to the CEO/ED (or equivalent) and the Board.

If the Company receives an infringement notice, the Board must oversee the Company's response to the infringement notice.

14. Review

The Company Secretary will be responsible for drafting, reviewing and making recommendations to the Board with respect to this Continuous Disclosure Policy. Any changes (other than administrative matters) must be approved by the Board. The Policy will be reviewed annually or as often as necessary to ensure it remains effective and relevant.

15. Approved and adopted

This Policy was approved and adopted by the Board on 17 May 2021.

2. Introduction

The purpose of this policy is to ensure compliance with the ASX Listing Rules and the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), and to ensure that every SER Person and their associates are aware of the legal restrictions that exist on dealing in the Company’s securities while such a person is in possession of price sensitive information concerning the Company.

The policy recognises that it is illegal for a person to deal in the Company’s securities when he or she is in possession of price sensitive information concerning the Company. This is regardless of whether the terms of this policy have been complied with.

This policy shall be distributed to every SER Person and it is the responsibility of each SER Person to comply with this policy. Any non-compliance with this policy will be considered as serious misconduct.

The restrictions set out in this policy are additional to any provisions governing or restricting the trading of securities set out in any agreement between the Company and a SER Person or a person holding securities in the Company or any provisions in the Company’s employee incentive plans (if any). Where the provisions of an agreement between the Company and a SER Person or a person holding securities in the Company conflict with the provisions of this policy, the most restrictive provisions will prevail.

3. Insider Trading Prohibition

A person engages in insider trading if that person deals in securities of a relevant entity while possessing information that:

- (a) is not generally available; and
- (b) if it were available, may have a material effect on the price or value of the relevant entity's securities, and the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, that the information is not generally available and, if it were, it might have a material effect on the price or value of the entity's securities. This type of information is commonly referred to as "price sensitive information" or "inside information".

Directors, officers and employees¹ who wish to trade in SER securities must first have regard to the statutory provisions of the Corporations Act dealing with insider trading. Insider trading may also include the passing on of this information to another or procuring another person to deal in the securities. Insider trading is an offence which carries severe penalties, including imprisonment.

In summary, directors, officers and employees of SER must not, whether in their own capacity or as an agent for another, subscribe for, purchase or sell, or enter into an agreement to subscribe for, purchase or sell, any securities in the company, or procure another person to do so:

- if that director, officer or employee possesses information that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the securities or influence a person's decision to buy or sell the securities in the Company if the information was generally available;
- if the director, officer or employee knows or ought reasonably to know, that:
 - the information is not generally available; and
 - if it were generally available, it might have a material effect on the price or value of the securities or influence a person's decision to buy or sell the securities in the Company.

Further, directors, officers and employees must not either directly or indirectly pass on this kind of information to another person if they know, or ought reasonably to know, that this other person is likely to deal in the securities of the Company or procure another person to do so.

4. Closed Periods, Additional Periods and Prohibited Periods

In addition to the prohibitions on insider trading set out in the Corporations Act, SER requires that directors, officers and employees must not trade in the Company's securities during the 'Closed Periods' commencing two weeks prior to the release of the Company's quarterly cash flow reports (Appendix 5B).

There is an exception to this 'Closed Periods' trading if the circumstances are exceptional and the procedure for prior written clearance described below has been met.

In addition to the prohibitions on insider trading set out in the Corporations Act, SER requires that directors, officers and employees must not trade in SER securities within any period imposed by SER from time to time, because SER is considering matters that would require disclosure to the market but for Listing Rule 3.1 A ('Additional Period'), unless the circumstances are exceptional and the procedure for prior written clearance described below has been met. This prohibition is in addition to the Closed Periods. The Closed Periods, and the Additional Period are together referred to as a 'Prohibited Period' in this policy.

Please note that even if it is outside of a Prohibited Period, directors, officers and employees must not trade in SER's securities if they are in possession of inside information.

5. Exceptional Circumstances when trading may be permitted subject to prior written clearance.

¹ In this policy, reference to directors, officers and employees includes all 'Connected Persons' of the directors, officers and employees. 'Connected Persons' means any person over whom the director, officer or employee has significant influence or control. Further, all references to officers includes a reference to 'key management personnel' as defined in AASB Standard 124 Related Party Disclosure, being those persons having authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the entity, directly or indirectly, including any director (whether executive or otherwise) of the entity.

A person may trade in the Company's securities inside a Prohibited Period, subject to obtaining prior written clearance in accordance with the procedure described below, in the following exceptional circumstances:

- if the person granting the prior written clearance is satisfied that the person seeking the clearance does not possess unpublished price sensitive information about the Company and the person seeking clearance is in severe financial hardship
- if the person granting the prior written clearance is satisfied that the person seeking the clearance does not possess unpublished price sensitive information about the company and there are other circumstances deemed to be exceptional by the person granting the prior written clearance, or
- where trading is required for compliance with a court order or court enforceable undertakings or for some other legal or regulatory requirement.

6. Procedure for Obtaining Clearance Prior to Trading

Directors, officers and employees must not trade in the Company's securities at any time outside a Prohibited Period unless the director, officer or employee first obtains prior written clearance from the Chairperson. The Chairperson will not unreasonably withhold clearance.

Directors, officers and employees must not trade in the Company's securities during a Prohibited Period, including in the exceptional circumstances referred to above, unless the director, officer or employee obtains prior written clearance from the Chairperson.

Should the Chairperson wish to trade securities, written clearance should be obtained from the Company Secretary or all other members of the Board. Permission will not be unreasonably withheld.

A request for prior written clearance to trade during a Prohibited Period should be made in writing and given to the Company Secretary and the Chairperson. The request may be submitted by email.

Any written clearance granted under this policy will be valid for the period of 10 business days from the time which it is given, or such other shorter period as may be determined by the person granting the clearance. The expiry time of the clearance will be stated in the clearance granted. Written clearance under this policy may be given by email.

7. Trading which is not subject to this policy

The following trading by directors, officers and employees is excluded from this policy:

- transfers of securities already held into a superannuation fund or other saving scheme in which the director, officer or employee is a beneficiary
- an investment in, or trading in units of, a fund or other scheme (other than a scheme only investing in the company's securities) where the assets of the fund or other scheme are invested at the discretion of a third party
- where the director, officer or employee is a trustee, trading in the company's securities by that trust provided the director, officer or employee is not a beneficiary of the trust and any decision to trade during a Prohibited Period is taken by the other trustees or by the investment managers independently of the director, officer or employee
- undertakings to accept, or the acceptance of, a takeover offer

- trading under an offer or invitation made to all or most of the security holders such as, a rights issue, a security purchase plan, a dividend or distribution reinvestment plan and an equal access buy-back, where the plan that determines the timing and structure of the offer has been approved by the Board. This includes decisions relating to whether or not to take up the entitlements and the sale of entitlements required to provide for the take up of the balance of entitlements under a renounceable pro rata issue
- the exercise (but not the sale of securities following exercise) of an option or right under an employee incentive scheme, or the conversion of a convertible security, where the final date for the exercise of the option or right, or the conversion of the security, falls during a Prohibited Period and the company has been in an exceptionally long Prohibited Period or the company has had a number of consecutive Prohibited Periods and the director, officer or employee could not reasonably have been expected to exercise it at a time when free to do so, or
- trading under a non-discretionary trading plan for which prior written clearance has been provided in accordance with procedures set out in the trading policy and where:
 - (a) the director, officer or employee did not enter into the plan or amend the plan during a Prohibited Period; and
 - (b) the trading plan does not permit the director, officer or employee to exercise any influence or discretion over how, when, or whether to trade.

Please note that even if the trading is excluded from this Policy, directors, officers and employees must not trade in SER securities if they are in possession of inside information.

8. Trading in derivative products

The prohibitions on trading in SER securities imposed by the company and set out in this policy extend to trading in financial products issued or created over or in respect of SER's securities.

9. Long Term Trading

SER wishes to encourage directors, officers and employees to adopt a long-term attitude to investment in the company's securities. Therefore, directors, officers and employees are strongly discouraged from engaging in short term or speculative trading of SER's securities.

10. Prohibited Transactions

Directors, officers and employees are prohibited from entering into transactions or arrangements which limit the economic risk of participating in unvested entitlements under any equity based remuneration schemes.

Requests for prior written clearance for the transactions set out in this section "Prohibited Transactions" should be made in accordance with the procedure set out above for trading during a Prohibited Period.

11. Notification

The ASX Listing Rules require the Company to notify the ASX within 5 business days after any dealing in securities of the Company (either personally or through an Associate) which results in a change in the relevant interests of a Director in the securities of the Company, including a change to a notifiable interest of a Director including whether the change occurred during a closed period where prior written approval was required and, if so, whether prior written approval was provided in accordance with ASX Listing Rule 3.19A.2.

The Company has made arrangements with each Director to ensure that each Director promptly discloses to the Company Secretary all the information required by the ASX.

Directors are also required to comply with the Corporations Act and must notify under that Act within 2 business days if they begin to have, or cease to have, a 'substantial holding' in the Company or if they already have a 'substantial holding' in the Company and there is a movement of at least 1% in their holding.

Directors are referred to the company's Director's Disclosure Obligations document and Director's Declaration of Interest Form. The Company Secretary is to maintain a register of clearances given in relation to trading in the company's securities. The Company Secretary must report all notifications of dealings in the company's securities to the next Board meeting of SER.

Directors are reminded that it is their obligation under section 205G of the Corporations Act to notify the market operator within 14 days after any change in a director's interest, if the company has not done so.

12. Margin Loans and Security Arrangements

A SER Person may only enter into a margin loan or other security arrangement in respect of the Company's securities with the prior written approval of the Designated Officer (in its absolute discretion).

Any approval by the Designated Officer may be subject to the condition that the Company be permitted to disclose to the ASX the existence of the margin loan or security arrangement, and where the Company considers appropriate, any relevant terms such as the trigger points or right of the financier to sell unilaterally.

13. Unvested Securities

The Company prohibits any SER Person from entering into transactions in associated products which operate to limit the economic risk of security holdings in the Company over unvested entitlements.

14. Breaches

Breach of the insider trading prohibition could expose directors, officers and employees to criminal and civil liability. Breach of insider trading law or this policy will be regarded by the company as serious misconduct which may lead to disciplinary action and/or dismissal.

This policy does not contain an exhaustive analysis of the restrictions imposed on, and the very serious legal ramifications of, insider trading. Directors, officers and employees who wish to obtain further advice in this matter, are encouraged to contact the Company Secretary.

This policy also applies to SER's related entities.

15. ASX Listing Rule Requirements

It is a requirement for admission to the official list of ASX, and an on-going requirement for listing, that the company has a policy for trading in company securities.

SER will give a copy of this policy to ASX for release to the market. The company will also give any amended version of this policy to ASX when it makes a change to: the periods within which directors, officers and employees are prohibited from trading in the company's securities; the trading that is excluded from the operation of the policy; or the exceptional circumstances in which directors, officers and employees may be permitted to trade during a Prohibited Period, within five business days of the amendments taking effect. SER will also give this policy to ASX immediately on request by ASX.

16. Hedging Policy

Hedging refers to using financial products to protect against or limit the risk associated with equity instruments, such as shares, options or securities.

All directors and employees are prohibited from hedging any shares or securities of SER.

17. Further assistance

Any SER Person who is unsure of the nature of the information that they have in their possession and whether they may deal in the Company's securities should contact the Company Secretary before dealing in any securities of the Company.

18. Approved and Adopted

This Policy was approved and adopted by the Board on 19 October 2020.

APPENDIX I

Health, Safety and Environment Policy

SER is committed to managing its activities in an environmentally responsible manner. Through effective management practices, SER aims to ensure activities have a minimum impact on the environment.

SER will:

- develop, implement and maintain project-specific Conservation Management Plans to identify, assess and minimise environmental risk at all stages of its operations as a fundamental part of its long-term strategy
- comply with all applicable legal and statutory requirements to which we subscribe as a minimum standard
- engage Stakeholders on their concerns, aspirations and values regarding the development, operation and closure aspects of our projects
- communicate our policy and environmental performance in an open, transparent and accurate manner
- minimise the environmental impacts of our operations through the efficient use of natural resources and the reduction of input materials and waste
- monitor our environmental footprint and risk through the measurement and reporting of environmental performance
- ensure that all SER employees and contractors are fully aware of this policy and their environmental responsibilities at all stages of the company's activities and operations.

SER is committed to exploring for minerals in a responsible manner that reflects the expectations of the broader community. High standards of environmental, health and safety management will be integrated into all its activities. In so doing, SER will strive to protect human health; minimise adverse impact on the natural, social and cultural environment while fostering beneficial outcomes; and return disturbed sites to a state compatible with a healthy environment.

SER's ultimate goal is for exploration to lay the foundation for the development, operation and rehabilitation of profitable mines in a manner that respects and responds to the social, environmental and economic needs of present generations and anticipates those of future generations in the communities and countries where it works.

In particular, SER believes that each and every employee of the company and its subsidiaries has a shared responsibility to apply this policy through:

Corporate commitment

- Priority: Recognising environmental, health and safety management as amongst its highest priorities
- Legislation: Complying with all applicable legal requirements in all countries and states within which it explores and operates. Applying corporate standards or sound management practices where legislation may be inadequate
- Integrated Management: Integrating environmental, health and safety principles and practices into the planning and day-to-day conduct of each exploration activity both in the field and the office
- Adoption: Adopting this policy while conducting work on the company's behalf. Encouraging joint venture parties to adopt the principles of this policy.

Public responsibility

- Engaging Interested Parties: Encouraging open and honest dialogue with landowners, land users, indigenous peoples, government authorities and other interested parties, and respecting and responding to concerns they may have
- Accountability: Monitoring and auditing its performance in a credible manner, to ensure compliance with corporate and legal requirements; and communicating the results to interested parties
- Collaboration: Working with government, industry, research bodies and the public to improve regulations, develop better practices, transfer knowledge and raise public awareness on environment, safety and social issues related to its industry.

Social Progress

- Community Assistance: Contributing to the quality of life (for example through education and health) of employees, local communities and host countries, while respecting their cultures, needs and priorities
- Indigenous Cultures: Respecting the rights and cultural beliefs of indigenous people who have an interest in the land being explored. Respecting and protecting sites and artefacts of cultural significance.

Environmental, health and safety stewardship

- Risk Management: Assessing each exploration activity to identify hazards that could result in harm to the environment, personal injury or illness, property damage, fire or security loss, and evaluating the level of risk they pose. Eliminating those hazards wherever feasible, otherwise managing them to minimise their associated risks.
- Activity Management: Minimising adverse impacts of our activities and managing associated risks requires planning; appropriate resources, information and training; sound economically feasible management practices and protection measures; use of personal protective equipment and adherence to standard work procedures.
- Contingency Planning: Implementing procedures and training employees to deal with likely incidents and emergency situations at each exploration site; and providing first aid, fire-fighting, spill response and communications equipment.
- Rehabilitation: Planning early for the cessation of exploration activities. Progressively, as each exploration activity is completed, rehabilitating affected land to a safe and stable state compatible with a healthy environment. Monitoring and maintaining rehabilitation to ensure its long-term success.
- Continuous Improvement: Striving to improve our performance through monitoring and auditing; regular review of policies and practices; and the investigation of incidents.

Economic benefits

- Living Standard: Integrating our activities with the economic development objectives of local communities and host countries in which we operate. For example, promoting the employment and training of local and national persons, and the utilisation of competitive local and national goods and services.

APPENDIX J

Related Parties Transaction and Conflict of Interests Policy

Related Party Transactions

The purpose of this policy is to establish a protocol for directors and management in negotiating and entering transactions between SER and related parties.

Transactions between SER and a related party raise a number of potential legal issues:

- there may be an actual or perceived conflict of interest on the part of a director and a director may have a material personal interest for the purpose of section 195 of the Corporations Act (the Act);
- a director could breach their duties owed to SER if they fail to separately consider and act in the best interests of the company, as distinct from the interests of the related party;
- a transaction could contravene Chapter 2E of the Act which, subject to certain exceptions, prohibits public companies from giving financial benefits to a related party of the public company without shareholder approval;
- directors, other persons involved in the negotiations and the related party may be liable for civil penalties for a breach of Chapter 2E;
- the ASX Listing Rules may require approval of the shareholders of SER where SER acquires or disposes of a substantial asset, or issues equity securities, to certain related and other parties.

Who is a related party of SER?

For the purpose of Chapter 2E², related parties of SER include:

- a director of SER or members of that director's immediate family such as a spouse, parent or child
- an entity which has the ability to control SER (Controlling Entity)
- directors of any Controlling Entity and their immediate families
- entities controlled by any of the above parties
- an entity which was a related party to SER within the previous 6 months
- an entity that believes it will become a related party in the future; and an entity acting in concert with a related party.

'Control' exists where a person has the ability to determine decisions in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity.

The definition of 'related party' for the purpose of the ASX Listing Rules is similar.

What does 'giving a financial benefit' involve?

For the purpose of Chapter 2E, giving a financial benefit is interpreted broadly under the Corporations Act, having regard to the substance rather than the form of the transaction, and includes giving a financial benefit indirectly. Where there is a purchase or sale transaction, both parties to the transaction are 'giving a financial benefit' to the other. The fact that there is payment of consideration for the benefit, even if fair value, does not cause the transaction to escape Chapter 2E of the Act.

Examples of giving a financial benefit include:

- giving or providing finance or property;
- buying or selling an asset
- leasing an asset
- supplying or receiving services
- issuing securities or granting options, and
- taking up or releasing an obligation.

Shareholder approval under Chapter 2E - exceptions

² In the event of any uncertainty, the definition of 'related party' in the Corporations Act and ASX Listing Rules will prevail.

Shareholder approval will not be required for a related party transaction where the following circumstances apply:

- benefits to closely held (i.e. wholly-owned) subsidiaries
- where the transaction is conducted on an arm's length basis (or more favourable to SER than an arm's length basis)
- the financial benefit consists of reasonable remuneration or reimbursement to employees or officers
- payment of reasonable indemnities, insurance premiums and legal costs;
- small amounts paid to a director (less than $5,000)
- benefits that do not discriminate unfairly between members, and
- payments made under an order of court.

Shareholder approval under the Listing Rules

Subject to a number of exceptions, under ASX Listing Rule 10.1, SER may not, without the approval of non-associated shareholders, acquire a substantial asset from, or dispose of a substantial asset to:

- a related party
- a subsidiary
- a substantial shareholder who has or who had at any time within 6 months prior to the transaction an interest in at least 10% of the voting securities in the company;
- an associate of any of the persons referred to above, or
- a person whose relationship to SER or to a person referred to above is such that, in Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) ASX's opinion, the transaction should be approved by the shareholders in the company.

An asset is a 'substantial asset' if its value, or the value of the consideration is, or in ASX's opinion is, 5 per cent or more of the equity interests in the company.

The ASX may deem shareholder approval is necessary even where the transaction falls below the 5 per cent threshold in certain circumstances.

Subject to a number of exceptions, under ASX Listing Rule 10.11, shareholder approval may be required for an issue of equity securities to a related party.

Procedures for related party transactions

All proposed or potential related party transactions must be disclosed to the Board of SER before they are entered into.

All related party transactions must be undertaken on arm's length terms or otherwise in compliance with Chapter 2E and the ASX Listing Rules.

Consideration of all proposed or potential related party transactions must be undertaken in compliance with section 195 of the Corporations Act, which may preclude a director.

Arrangements concerning related party transactions should generally be negotiated at arm's length by persons who are independent of the related party. This may require an independent committee of the Board to be formed to supervise negotiations.

Both before and during a related party transaction, the Board should be ensured the transaction meets the following criteria:

- It is in the best interests of existing shareholders - the obligation to act in the best interests of shareholders means that the Board is required to ensure that related party transactions are conducted at arm's length and on commercial terms
- Fair value and reasonable – the terms negotiated of the transaction must be at least as good as, or better than it would receive if it were dealing at arm's length on a commercial basis.

- Properly documented – including records to justify the price and any other terms and conditions upon which the related party transaction is entered into, in particular the rationale for entering into the transaction.
- Independent Report – report as to the reasonableness of the price and other terms and conditions may be appropriate in certain circumstances.
- Appropriate disclosure.

Independent advice should be sought (where appropriate) in relation to whether a related party transaction is permitted by the Chapter 2E or the ASX Listing Rules, requires shareholder approval, is on arm's length terms or requires disclosure to the market.

Conflicts of Interest

Under the Corporations Act and general law, directors and officers must avoid situations where their interests and the interests of the company conflict. Each director and officer has a duty to avoid conflicts of interest. Interests that give rise to a conflict include, without limitation:

- other directorships
- potentially conflicting duties owed to other entities
- outside investments of the director and officer and their related parties, and
- outside employment of engagements.

This policy intends to provide guidance to directors and officers in complying with their obligations to take all reasonable steps to avoid actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interests.

Declaration of Interests

Directors and officers are required to comply with the company's Code of Conduct, which amongst other things, imposes obligations in relation to conflicts of interest. In addition to those obligations, directors and officers must comply with the following requirements:

- They must take all reasonable steps to avoid actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interests.
- In accordance with the Corporations Act, directors must disclose any conflicts of interest and, in certain circumstances, abstain from participating in any discussion or voting on matters in which they have a material personal interest.
- In the event that a director or officer becomes aware of any current or potential conflicts of interest, the director must immediately notify the Chair or the Company Secretary.
- Directors may choose to submit standing notices of interest to all board members, or must disclose his or her interest in a matter being considered by the board at that time.
- Directors and officers are expected to be sensitive to actual and perceived conflicts of interest that may arise and give ongoing consideration to this in view of the changing nature of the company's business
- All related party transactions require proper approval from the board in accordance with the Related Party Transactions section of this policy.
- Director and officers must obtain the company's consent before disclosing company information to another company or third party.

Procedures to manage conflicts of interest

Generally speaking, directors:

- must disclose to the board any actual or potential conflicts of interest which may exist or might reasonably be thought to exist as soon as they arise
- cannot receive the relevant board or board committee papers if the actual or potential conflict is recognised in advance of the circulation of the papers unless the other directors agree otherwise
- must absent themselves from the room when the board or committee discusses and votes on matters to which the conflict relates unless the other directors resolve that the director in question may stay
- cannot vote on the matter unless the other directors resolve that the director in question can vote

- must, if deemed appropriate by the board of the director, take such other steps as are necessary and reasonable to resolve any conflict of interest within an appropriate period.

APPENDIX K

- (h) communications and documents relating to the investigation of a disclosure will be sent to an email address or to a printer that can be accessed by other staff; and
- (i) each person who is involved in handling and investigating a disclosure will be reminded about the confidentiality requirements, including that an unauthorised disclosure of a discloser's identity may be a criminal offence.

9.2.5. If an Eligible Whistleblower is concerned about a breach of confidentiality, the Company encourages the Eligible Whistleblower to lodge a complaint with the Company by contacting a Whistleblower Protection Officer.

9.2.6. Eligible Whistleblowers may also lodge a complaint with a regulator such as ASIC, APRA or the ATO, for external investigation.

9.2.12. The Company will endeavour to adopt the following measures and mechanism to protect Eligible Whistleblowers from detriment (where applicable):

- (e) interventions for protecting an Eligible Whistleblower if detriment has already occurred – e.g. the Company could investigate and address the detrimental conduct, such as by taking disciplinary action, or the Company could allow the Eligible Whistleblower to take extended leave.

9.2.13. Where an Eligible Whistleblower believes they have suffered detriment, the Company encourages that person to seek independent legal advice or contact a regulatory body such as ASIC, APRA or the ATO.

1. Introduction

- 1.1 Strategic Energy Resources Limited (Company or SER) and its subsidiary companies is committed to conducting its operations and business activities with integrity and preventing bribery or corruption by any of its directors, officers, employees or any other party acting on its behalf. SER is committed to complying with all laws that apply to it, including anti-bribery and corruption laws.
- 1.2 The purpose of the Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy (Policy) is to:
- (a) supplement SER's Code of Conduct by setting out the conduct expected by the Company to minimise the risk of bribery or corruption occurring in connection with its operations and activities; and
 - (b) provide guidance on how to deal with instances of bribery or corruption.

2. Application of this Policy

- 2.1 This Policy applies to SER and its directors, officers, employees, secondees, consultants, contractors and to any agents, advisor, third party or other individual who is, from time-to-time engaged by or paid to represent the Company and its subsidiaries in the conduct of its ordinary business.
- 2.2 This policy applies globally to all SER's operations. The principles of this Policy will apply whether or not the country in which SER is operating has specific anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws. If this Policy differs from local law, SER's representatives will comply with whichever is most stringent.

3. Prohibition on bribery and corruption

- 3.1 Bribery and corruption in any form are prohibited.

 - 3.5 A declaration must be made in the Gifts and Entertainment Register where the offer or acceptance of gifts (including personal favours) or hospitality is over AUD500. The entry must:
 - (a) include the value (or approximate value) of the gift or hospitality and whether the gift or invitation to participate in hospitality was accepted or declined; and

 - 3.6 The Gifts and Entertainment Register will be reviewed by the Company Secretary every six months.

It must also be recorded accurately in SER's accounts.
- 4.2 Attendance at political gatherings, meetings and functions in a professional capacity is permitted where there is a legitimate business purpose. Records of attendance (and the cost of attendance) must be declared in the Gifts and Entertainment Register.

Charitable donations and social programs

- 4.3 Apart from political donations, SER may make charitable donations and contribute to social programs (e.g. community education and health programs) as permitted by local laws and practices.
